

From: Brendan Blake [<mailto:brendan@erwwen.co.uk>]
Sent: 07 January 2025 09:14
To: 'Modern Print & Design'
Cc: 'Clive Hooper'
Subject: RE: Followup RE: Havards Domain Name

Hi Chris,
I have just updated the nameservers for Havards.wales, to the settings as below. Please see screen shot. That should percolate through the DNS system in the next day or so.

We have one issue here. Chris decided he wanted to use the email address orders@havards.wales so orders could be emailed in. These emails will start going to your server once the DNS system is updated. There haven't actually been any emails to this new address so far, but I wonder if you could create two forwarders to the Havard staff as follows:

Email Address	Forward To
orders@havards.wales	am@siophavards.cymru
orders@havards.wales	manager@siophavards.cymru

Yet another migration detail that hasn't been thought through. There are more serious ones which I will discuss with you!

Another minor issue is that we are still getting emails sent to Bryce@havards.wales and sonnie@havards.wales (the previous owners) despite them having had two years to tell everyone their new email addresses. On the current server these just go into the account email box. I had set up an automatic response to the senders, but still some email comes! The domain havards.wales has never (to my knowledge) been used for a web site, so is completely unranked, unlike the current domain siophavards.cymru which actually appears on the first page of search results in most cases – even on Bing. I would not have agreed to changing from it, had I been consulted.

Let me have a time I can call you – I'm going out today – hopefully back about 4 pm.

Best wishes,
Brendan
